The One Hundred Percenter

Lady Astor, like Bernard Shaw, has the habit of saying startling things that make people think, says the Winnipeg Tribune. In the recent election campaign in Great Britain she struck a responsive chord in many minds when she said:

"It is the 100 per cent. American and the out-and-out Englishman I fear. I think 100 per cent. citizens ought to be locked up. They are a danger to the world."

Everybody knows what a 100 percenter, or an out-and-outer, is. He is to be found in more or less substantial numbers in every country, although his favorite stamping ground is the North American continent. The 100 percenter may be distinguished by several well-known characteristics.

In the first place, he holds as a great moral principle the immoral doctrine embraced by the famous motto, "May my country be always right, but my country right or wrong." This naturally scales down into "my state (or province), my city, my ward, my party"—and, not infrequently, "myself." In essence it is placing a nation, or a locality, or a group of persons associated together for some common cause, above every ethical or moral judgment of mankind, above the sense of right or wrong.

Another sign of the 100 percenter is a steadfast belief that everything that is American, or Canadian, or English, or Italian, is right, because it is American, or Canadian, or English, or Italian. The logical consequences of such an obsession is that he cheapens his country's flag by dragging it in and floundering it on every possible occasion.

The 100 percenter is not all bad, of course. He merely fails to see that patriotism is not the cause but the result of a sound and honorable national life. He is the victim of current standardization of thought which manifests itself in slogans and headlines. Not everyone would want to go as far as Lady Astor and have him locked up. Nevertheless, he is a danger because his enthusiasm is rooted mainly in a mass of intolerances. And intolerance, as Lady Astor implied, is one great obstacle to civilized social progress.

And in civilized social progress lies the hope for the future peace of the world. If the American, the Canadian, the Englishman, the Italian insist upon the acceptance of their particular national views, and intolerantly refuse to see any good or virtue in the views of others, what hope can there be of the nations drawing closer together?

And if the 100 per cent. doctrine is sound and right, and the 100 percenter is to have his way, what hope is there for the future of many nations of today? Take Canada as an example. If the 100 per cent. Easterner adheres rigidly to his views, declares he alone is right, but whether right or wrong, he will not budge from any position he has taken on fiscal or other questions, and the 100 per cent. Westerner adopts the same attitude, what will be the outcome of the Canadian Confederation?

Apply the same attitude of mind in matters of race, language, religion, and government in Canada, and in each of the provinces of Canada, becomes an impossibility. The 100 percenter would wreck everything if he does not have his own way.

All history proves that intolerance has been the cause of the world's greatest sorrows, the underlying cause of its bloodiest wars. Intolerance of race, intolerance of national customs, intolerance of religion, intolerance of social conditions, the 100 percenter in the ranks of employers and in trade unions, these are the real dangers in the world today as they were in the years that are past.

The 100 per cent. demagogue with a glib tongue and a reckless disregard for truth and fact by attracting the attention, playing upon the passions, prejudices and sentiment of those who are so swayed rather than guided by their intelligence, can undo the work of generations of statesmen, and render difficult and oftentimes impossible the work of the true reformer.

The man who boasts he is 100 per cent. this or 100 per cent. that is merely advertising the fact that he is intolerant in his views and narrow in his vision and conception of life. He may be sincere, but his sincerity is the outcome of his intolerance, and his intolerance has its foundation in ignorance and a prejudiced mind. As such he is a national danger.

Can Measure Laughter

Machine Determines Whether Comedy Piece Is Successful Or Failure

"John James, comedian, Lafo-graph 88," may be the form of card used by entertainers in the future, for a new apparatus has been invented to register the exact "strength" of the laughter aroused by a comic piece in a theatre or concert hall. It registers the truth and nothing but the truth. The machine will presumably have a figure to denote absolute efficiency, and should a musical comedy fail to come up to scratch it will not longer be possible to suspect that the failure was due to the critics. Also the critic's work will be made easier. Instead of praising an author's wit, or discussing a comedian's qualities, it will be necessary only to say at the end: "Lafo-graph 100, or 50, or 0," as the case may be. After a first night the public will be able to see the registered rise and fall of the needle—how it began at "titter," rose to the middle spheres of "chuckle" and "laugh," leapt to the higher "outburst" or "scream," or reached the supreme heights of "screch."

PAINS IN THE BACK

These Are Usually Due To a Weakened Condition Of The Blood

The muscles of the back are constantly under heavy strain, and have but little rest throughout the day. They are therefore in need of all the nourishment and strength that plenty of pure red blood can give them. Unless they have this help, you will have backache and continue to have it.

Backache seldom or never means kidney trouble. It is nothing more than the tired, worn-out muscles of the back showing their exhaustion because of the lack of good, pure blood. The one generally recognized efficient blood builder is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When the blood has been improved through the use of this medicine backache disappears. Mrs. F. Fairbairn, Essex, Ont., tells what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for her in a case of this kind. She says: "I suffered for nearly three years with a weak back. At times the pains were so bad that I had to walk with a cane. When I had tried several doctors with very little benefit. A friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did so, and oh, the joy of once more being able to stand up straight without suffering intense pain. After using two boxes there was no doubt they were helping me. I used eight boxes in all and have not since had a sign of the trouble. I can do all my housework and not feel tired and worn-out as formerly. For all this I thank Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

If your dealer does not keep these pills you can get them by mail at $2 a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Search For Oil In Manitoba

Western Oil Fields Are Gradually Extending Eastward

The search for oil in the western provinces is gradually extending into Manitoba, and announcement is made of the formation of a syndicate of eastern capitalists to drill in the Ochre River field. The new organization, which is called the Carter Oil Syndicate, has taken over the holdings of 1,300 acres south of Ochre River.

Reduce the Acid

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour. Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours. Be sure you get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any druggist.

Important Move Made

By Labor Government

Would Have Dominion Agree On Signing Of Optional Clause Of World Court Statutes

Important negotiations affecting Empire affairs are reported to have been initiated by the new Labor Government of Great Britain. It has communicated with all the Dominions in an effort to gain agreement on the signing of the optional clause of the world court statutes, under which questions of international law would be submitted to the permanent court of international justice, at the Hague.

The Labor newspaper, the Daily Herald, said also that the Labor Government has informed the Dominion governments that it proposes to resume diplomatic relations with Russia.

The world court matter requires agreement of all the Dominions, and it is expected this can be secured without much trouble. Australia, hitherto, was probably the only Dominion reluctant to sign the optional clause, and it is understood this reluctance has now been removed to a great extent. In any event, Premier Ramsay MacDonald is hopeful of being able to show complete Empire agreement on joining the world court when he visits the League Assembly, at Geneva, in September.

So far as Russia is concerned, the Labor Government is already pledged to renewal of diplomatic negotiations, this being a necessary and important step towards the desired increase in British trade with the Soviet Union.

The moisture evaporated from a single white oak in a day has been estimated to be 150 gallons of water.

Will Increase Empire's Trade

U.S. Tariff Likely To Divert Trade To British Dominions

Increased United States tariff against Canadian products will divert Canada's trade more and more to the other Dominions of the British Empire, believes Norton Francis, president of the Canterbury, New Zealand, chamber of commerce, and prominent business man, who is visiting Canada and the United States for the purpose of studying relations between the farmer and city industry on this continent.

In an interview at Winnipeg, Mr. Francis said he does not think Canada can meet the tariff situation by further raising her own tariff scale, but should concentrate on increasing her manufacturing and inter-empire trade.

Importance Of Tourist Trade As an Economic Factor In Canada Continues To Increase

The importance of the tourist trade as an economic factor in Canada continues to increase and is being recognized to a greater extent than ever by all classes of the community. Fresh interest has been stimulated in the subject by the recent publication of estimates by the Dominion Government placing the expenditures of tourists from other countries in this Dominion at $250,501,000. It is predicted freely that when the totals for 1920 come to be written up they will be well in excess of the $300,000,000 mark. The fact, moreover, that the expenditures of tourists from other countries in Canada amounted to $250,501,000 in 1928, while those of Canadian tourists abroad amounted to $103,245,000, thereby leaving a substantial credit balance of trade, is satisfactory, but when this worked down to a per capita basis it will be seen that Canadians spend far more in proportion abroad than do foreigners here.

For instance, the figures for the United States alone. These show that while American tourists spend some $240,000,000, or about $2.40 per capita here, Canadians spend $75,000,000, or $7.50 per capita, across the line. It is evident, therefore, that on a per capita basis we are not getting as large a share of the American tourist trade as we should. This will probably be corrected as the attractions of Canada become better known.

Commenting on the situation, the government statistician says that Canada's great natural assets—her picturesque scenery, the diversity of lake, forest, and river, the many large districts still remaining in their natural state, the beautiful and invigorating climate, the charm of the Canadian winter and its distinctive sports, the old world lure of French Canada, attract tourists in ver-increasing numbers. The presence on our southern border of the United States, with its dense population possessing in a high degree the leisure and means to travel, the ease of communication between the two countries, the large automobile population, the relative cheapness of an automobile holiday in Canada for the average American family, and the close interlocking of business interests between the two countries result in a very large travel over the border. Canadians, too, are attracted by the larger United States cities with their theatres, museums, etc., and the more "settled" scenery, while large numbers of well-to-do Canadians visit United States winter playgrounds in the south.

That Canadians realize the economic importance of this traffic is evidenced by the large sums spent on highway construction and advertising, and by the good accommodation provided by hotels, tourist homes and camps. In addition to the direct value of the expenditure of tourists, there follows the wider diffusion of knowledge of Canada's resources and increasing investment in them.

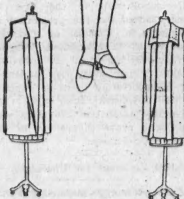

At the same time it is evident that many Canadians do not realize the beauties of their own country. How many people in Ontario, for instance, realize the beauties of the lower St. Lawrence and the Maritime Provinces, where they can enjoy not only entrancing natural scenery but also the salt sea breezes from the Gulf of St. Lawrence or the Atlantic. At the same time the people who live in those regions know little or nothing of the delights of Muskoka or Timagami, or the Georgian Bay, while both are largely ignorant of the pleasure which may be had in the Rockies or at the Pacific coast, or at the pretty resorts in the Prairie Provinces. A greater realization of the pleasures that are to be had at home will not only help to keep Canadian money here but enable Canadians to place before citizens of other lands the joys of a stay of shorter or greater length in the pleasure grounds of the great Dominion. In other words, many Canadians do not know their own country well enough.—Monetary Times.

Inter-Imperial Trade Idea Meets With Heartiest Response Throughout British Empire

Grades For Strawberries

Fruit Commissioner Has Worked Out Recommended Grades For Berries

The marketing of all kinds of produce is materially helped when properly graded. The fruit commissioner of the Department of Agriculture, at Ottawa, has offered recommended grades for strawberries. First of all, it is recommended that the fruit be divided into No. 1, No. 1 canning, and No. 1 for jam. The specifications for No. 1 strawberries call for fruit with the calyx and a short stem attached, which are well formed, of good colour, firm, but not over-ripe, free from surface moisture, bruises, bird pecks, mould, and from damage caused by sand, diseases or other means. The minimum diameter for this grade is three-quarters of an inch, measured from side to side.

No. 1 canning strawberries are recommended to consist of field run fruit, clean, sound, ripe, firm, and of uniform size, of good colour and free from malformed or monkey-faced berries.

The specifications for No. 1 jam strawberries call for field run fruit, clean, ripe, and of good colour, free from malformed or monkey-faced.

In order to allow for variations incident to careful commercial grading and handling, an allowance of five per cent under the specified size and five per cent, by volume may fall below the remaining requirements of the grade.

In addition the winning teams in each province will be taken to Toronto, to the Royal Winter Fair as guests of the railway.

The hole from No. 1 (championship) tee is seen at the top and below is the hole in detail with yardages to scale underneath the panel.

The proposals of James A. Robb, Canadian Finance Minister, in connection with inter-imperial trade and suggestion of an Imperial conference on Empire trade and tariffs continue to be discussed with the liveliest interest throughout the British Empire.

British newspapers are appealing to the government to respond heartily to the Canadian suggestions, but there has been no move yet.

The Financial Times, in a long editorial, enthusiastically supports Mr. Robb's ideas.

"Meanwhile," continues the Times, "the present provides an excellent opportunity for co-operation in industrial development among the dominions themselves. With her magnificent and seemingly boundless resources and unrivalled facilities for the generation of cheap electric power, Canada offers probably the most attractive field in the world today, for British capital and enterprise."

The Times calls attention to Canada's development as a manufacturing country and appeals for the co-operation of British labour and capital to assist in this development.

Mr. Robb's proposals have called attention publicly to Canada's important part in the trade of the empire. In this connection many Canadians now in London are deploring the lack of publicity which Canada receives. It is admitted that the leading railroads extensively advertise the benefits of travel in Canada and settlement there, but these winning Canadian would like to see Canadian products advertised by the Dominion government in the same way that Australia, New Zealand and South African products are advertised throughout the country by the respective governments of those countries.

They see no reason why Canadian apples should not have the same publicity as Australian apples, which in the present competition many Canadians now in London are deploring the lack of publicity which Canada receives.

A Pleading Incident

Deaf and Dumb Children Are Entertained To a Lecture

This pleasing and pathetic little incident took place in Montreal recently—at the largest health exhibit ever shown in Canada, when the Canadian Social Hygiene Council assisted the Montreal Federation of French Health Agencies in a financial drive.

Morning, afternoon, and evening, health lectures were given, thousands of school children being carried free on the street cars. And one day they brought all the little deaf and dumb children in Montreal.

They gathered that silent company in the big lecture hall, and placed them in little groups of fifteen or so, around lay teachers. Each teacher faced the lecturer, and the children solemnly looked at their teachers. And then the lecturer began to speak to the children, while they stood, unhearing, and watched their teachers.

He spoke only a few sentences, and stopped. And all the teachers began to move their fingers, translating the lecture. The children's eyes followed eagerly as they understood the words that were being relayed to them, their own native language that they could not understand until it was translated into motion.

Children are notably fidgety at lectures, but not so these youngsters. To see how they enjoyed every minute of it was enough to bring tears to many eyes that watched them. They were being brought into closer touch with the world of their voice playmates; their partial isolation was being temporarily broken down. To each of them, that lecture was a big event.

MADE HER BABY
PLUMP AND WELL

Nothing makes a mother more grateful than a benefit conferred upon her child. Mothers everywhere who have used Baby's Own Tablets for their children speak in enthusiastic terms of them. For instance, Mrs. Zephoria Lavoie, Three Rivers, Que., writes:—"Baby's Own Tablets are a wonderful medicine for little ones. They never fail to regulate the baby's stomach and bowels and make him plump and well. I always keep a box of the Tablets in the house and would advise all mothers to do likewise." Most of the ordinary ailments of childhood arise in the stomach and bowels, and can be quickly banished by Baby's Own Tablets. These Tablets relieve constipation and indigestion, break up colds and simple fevers, expel worms, allay teething pains and promote beautiful sleep. They are guaranteed to be free from injurious drugs and are safe even for the youngest and most delicate child. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Essay Contest Teaching Toledo School Children Facts About Canada

A Canadian essay contest in the Toledo, Ohio, schools, sponsored by Edmund C. Odette, M.P., for East Essex, has gained such popularity in that city that one of the newspapers now is carrying a daily feature entitled "Facts About Canada."

"Canada," one of the Toledo papers pointed out, "is a nation of home-owners in the farming district 78 per cent. of the people owning their own homes."

Other facts listed from day to day, deal with Canada's natural resources, its hydro power, its fishing and its industrial enterprises.

The competition among the Toledo school children was started last fall when Mr. Odette, addressing the North Toledo Improvement association, offered to pay the expenses of a trip to Ottawa for the author of the best essay on "Canada."

The proposal received such a favorable impression in Toledo, that the chamber of commerce there offered to do likewise for a second student. The object of the essay contest and the trip, is to promote a better understanding between the people of the adjoining countries.

Esquimo Boys Cannot Stand Climate Of Eastern Canada

Ben Ell, nine-year-old son of Chief John Ell, head of the Southampton Island Eskimos, and Sam Pudlutt, who have been endeavoring to learn the ways of civilization at Lakefield preparatory school, near Peterboro, Ont., have been forced to give up their studies there and hurry home on account of illness.

Ben and Sam soon became favorites at the Lakefield school where they have been for two years, but just before Christmas both were forced to relinquish their studies to face an ordeal of sickness. Influenza, pneumonia, measles, tonsillitis and operations for mastoids and adenoids proved too grueling a test for little Eskimo constitutions and it has been decided to send them back to their northern home.

EZEKIEL TEACHES PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY

Golden Text: "Each one of us shall give account of himself to God." — Romans 14:12.
Lesson: Ezekiel 18:1-32; 33:1-20.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 125.

Explanations and Comments

The Prophet's Responsibility, verses 7-9.—Ezekiel is set as a watchman unto the house of Israel. He must hear the word of Jehovah and he must proclaim it; for as a watchman he is responsible for warning the people of the consequences of sin. He must know that God punishes wickedness, and he must warn the wicked from his way. If he fails in his duty of warning and the wicked man dies in his iniquity, the prophet is "blood guilty," accountable to God for that man. If, however, the prophet warns the man and the man fails to heed him, the prophet has "delivered his soul," he is free from guilt in the matter. His was the responsibility, not of producing obedience, but of uttering the warning. Recall how Paul declared to the elders of Ephesus that he shrank not from declaring unto them anything that was profitable, and taught them publicly, and from house to house, testifying both to Jews and to Greeks repentance toward God; wherefore he testified unto them that he was pure from the blood of all men, for he had ceased not to admonish every one night and day with tears. Acts 20:17-31.

"No one of us is free from the danger of taking spiritual obligation too lightly. If we are Christ's disciples at all, there is committed to us the word of reconciliation." We are put in trust with a gospel which is intimately connected with the destinies of men. It is within our power to speak words which make an eternal difference to those who hear them, and upon our faithfulness may depend their opportunity of realizing the only way of escape and life. And yet how often are we content with something much less passionate than the service of a true watchman!" — J. Stuart Holden.

Sale Of School Lands

Great Interest Shown In This Year's Auction Sales Held In West

Unprecedented interest was manifested in this year's auction sales of reserve school lands in Saskatchewan and Alberta. Attendance at the various points where sales were held was high, and reached 1,000 at some points. Many farmers acquired additional land adjoining their present holdings for the purpose of extending their operations, or to make provision for their sons. Many of the buyers of these lands were "new Canadians" who have prospered in western Canada.

In all, some 738,000 acres of land were sold, for a total of $10,102,329. Prices paid ranged all the way from $8 to $70 an acre. In Saskatchewan, 4,662 parcels were sold, the average price being $12.81 per acre, and in Alberta 63 parcels, the average price being $13.53 per acre. Two of the heaviest sales were at Assinibois, Sask., where $1,400,000 was realized, and at Rosetown, Sask., where $1,216,000 was taken.

Grandmother Says

"That when she was a wee, tiny baby and her mamma did not have enough milk to nurse her, she gave her Eagle Brand Milk, which made her strong and healthy—and now my mamma is giving me Eagle Brand, and I have gained over half a pound a week since I was three months old."

The high quality, uniformity and economy of Eagle Brand make it the first choice for cooking and table use.

If your baby is not gaining in weight as it should—if it cries or is fretty or restless—something must be the matter with it.

In this paper from time to time you will find an advertisement of Eagle Brand Milk, a food that has raised more healthy babies than all the prepared infant foods combined. Cut out the advertisement and mail it to The Borden Company, Limited, 140 St. Paul St. West, Montreal, and they will send you, free of charge, a very helpful baby welfare book containing authoritative feeding directions and a vast amount of useful information on the care of baby. Also ask for Baby Record, a diary of baby's progress.

PLAN TO SOLVE LABOR PROBLEMS IN GREAT BRITAIN

London, England.—In debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, Knight H. J. H. Thomas, Lord Privy Seal and Minister of Employment in parliament outlined the government plans for reducing the volume of unemployment in Great Britain.

Schemes must not be considered with a view merely to giving work, but also from the standpoint of stimulating trade at home and abroad, he declared. "What we import we should make for ourselves," he asserted and cheered from the opposition benches.

Mr. Thomas continued that the railways imported wooden track sleepers when examination had shown that only technical difficulties prevented them from using steel sleepers which could be made in Britain.

Road schemes costing $187,500,000 and providing work for five or six years would be speeded up, Mr. Thomas said, adding that the government's contribution would be paid out of the road fund.

Arrangements would be made for the immediate re-construction of the Waterloo Bridge on which depended the great Charing Cross bridge scheme which would involve expenditure of $55,000,000. Other schemes to be submitted to the railway companies were for the electrification of the Great Eastern Railway suburban lines running out of Liverpool Street station, tube extensions, improvements in docks and harbors, and a freight railroad around outer London to avoid cross-London traffic.

The natural resources of the country would be developed, including land drainage, forestation and fisheries.

Mr. Thomas declared he was seriously considering a proposal to make Scotland more attractive and thereby enable "our American cousins to see the thrift of the Scots," a statement that caused laughter.

Mr. J. H. Thomas announced he was going to Canada when Parliament rises at the end of the present month to discuss with the Canadian Government the subject of British migration to Canada.

The minister stressed that in any discussion of migration with the Dominion, nothing would do more harm than the suggestion that Britain wanted to solve her unemployment problem at their expense.

"They will resent it and resent it bitterly," he said. "I believe migration is a problem that has to be negotiated on the spot. It is something which has to be decided on all its bearings, because anyone who has visited Canada and knows it as I know it, knows perfectly well the remarkable change from an agricultural to an industrial population that is taking place there."

"Hitherto our migration schemes have been based on the assumption that agriculturists alone were wanted. That is not true today. Equally, labor there has safeguarded its position by saying 'no, we are not going to have people forced on us to lower and break down our standards.'"

"I propose to visit Canada myself immediately the House rises to discuss the whole problem."

New Chancellor Of Queen's Kingston, Ont.—James Armstrong Richardson, of Winnipeg, head of the firm of James Richardson and Sons was chosen as the new chancellor of Queen's University to succeed Sir Robert L. Borden, who resigned several weeks ago. Mr. Richardson's name was the only one to be placed in nomination and he was unanimously chosen for the post.

Rumor Is Denied

Ottawa.—A rumor that Canada has made an offer to the Newfoundland government for the purchase of Labrador was given official denial here. "In no way is it true," said Premier King, when the matter was drawn to his attention. The rumor indicated that the price offered by the Dominion government was one hundred million dollars.

State Control Of Radio

Royal Radio Commission Makes Important Recommendations

Ottawa.—Government control of all broadcasting stations, elimination of advertising from the programs and that licensees pay the upkeep by licensees were advocated before the Royal Radio Commission at its final session here by the All-Canada Congress of Labor and the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League.

The Canadian Congress representatives also recommended that the present commission be continued or a similar organization be established vested with complete administrative control of radio broadcasting.

The Canadian Legion advocated a broadcasting organization that would develop imperial patriotism and Canadian culture. Canadians, said the Legion briefly were being overwhelmed with foreign programs charged with propaganda.

The commission will at once begin the preparation of its report. It will probably be available about the end of the month.

Canada May Consider Relations With Russia

Communications From British Government Have Been Received At Ottawa

Ottawa.—Certain communications of a "general and preliminary nature," regarding the signing of the optional clause, and also bearing on resumption of diplomatic relations with Russia, have been received by the government of Canada from the British government, that was the extent of the information given out here with respect to these matters which are accorded specific mention in the King's speech at the opening of the parliament.

Just what position the Canadian government is taking on the question of resuming diplomatic relations with Russia has not been stated. It is considered likely, however, that Canada will support any such move.

Two Injured In Explosion

Faulty Water Jacket Burst In Jewish Orphanage, Winnipeg

Winnipeg.—A violent explosion which shook buildings within a half a block radius, caused injury to two persons and damage to the basement of the Jewish Orphanage, on Matheson Avenue, north Winnipeg.

Many children are cared for at the Orphanage, but all escaped injury. While a city water works employee was attempting to repair a faulty water jacket in the basement it exploded. The employee, George Bennett, was painfully hurt, while Mrs. A. Onovsky, wife of the Orphanage superintendent, suffered from arm injuries and shock.

It was first reported that fire had followed the explosion, but this was erroneous, though firemen from central and north stations were called out and aided in bringing the injured from the building.

On his way to British Columbia, Mr. Marler will speak at Toronto, Ottawa, Hamilton and Port William, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary and Jasper Park. In British Columbia where he will spend most of his time before sailing on August 29, he will speak at Vernon, Nanaimo, Duncan, Port Alberni, Penticton, Kootenay Landing, Kimberley, Windermere, Kelowna, Sicamous and Victoria.

World's Population

Believe Population Will Be Doubled In Next 150 Years

Chicago, Ill.—Mankind probably will require at least 350 years to double the world's present estimated population, which is between 1,700,000,000 and 1,900,000,000, if fertility and mortality remain as at present. A mere doubling of the world's population however, will produce a striking change in the race composition, with a greatly increased percentage of Slavs. The population of North America, Western and Northern Europe, and Australia even now are no longer reproducing themselves.

Gold Rush Started

Report Of Strike In Northern Saskatchewan Causes Excitement

Big River, Sask.—The placer gold and platinum strikes about 300 miles north of Big River is causing considerable excitement at this point. About 400 men have left here, and over 400 from other points have gone to the scene of the new find. A number of parties are now outfitting at this point and will leave by barge and canoe this week.

The principal find is reported at Frohisher Lake. An old prospector who just arrived here from the scene of the strike to secure supplies reports that when he left over 500 claims had been staked around Frohisher and Birch Lakes.

The route to the new placer field is by water, the entire distance being without portages, via Big River, Isle La Crosse, Lake Deep River, Clear or Churchill Lake. All kinds of reports are coming in as to the richness of the new finds, one report stating that $17 was washed from one shovel of dirt.

To Cross Atlantic In Small Vessel

Five Cleveland Men Believe They Can Make Return Trip

Cleveland, Ohio.—The little power boat Kart, manned by five men who built it, put out from here on an adventurous attempt to cross the Atlantic ocean.

The Kart, captained by Joe Leppich, 31, a German Great War veteran, took on 500 gallons of gasoline and enough canned goods and water to last three months. Captain Leppich intends to skipper her down the St. Lawrence river and then across the sea to Hamburg, Germany. "We will be in Hamburg in ten days. The Kart will make the trip there and back," said the captain.

Killed By Artillery Shells

Two Accidents Cause Death Of Five In Poland

Warsaw.—Two accidents involving heavy artillery shells killed five persons and injured a number of others in Poland. In one case two country boys found a dud on a Russian-Austrian battle front near the village of Luck. They took it home, where it exploded, killing a family of four and wrecking the home. The other accident occurred near Cracow, where, in artillery practice, a shell landed in a group of military observers, killing one and injuring several others.

CROP CONDITIONS ARE VARIABLE REPORT REVEALS

Ottawa.—The telegraphic crop report issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics showed a wide range of conditions across the country. Crop prospects continue satisfactory over Southern and Northern Alberta. Warm weather with plenty of rain is needed in Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Fall wheat is excellent in Ontario. Scarcity of rain also is reported from Nova Scotia. The largest strawberry crop is expected in the history of British Columbia. Favorable reports are to hand from New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

Reports by provinces for the end of June:

Manitoba.—Manitoba department of agriculture.—Crops started late on account of cool spring. Light rains have left little soil moisture this spring. Germination fair. Slight setback to feed fields by frost on June 12. Rain-fall scattered and variable. Need heavy general rain over province.

Saskatchewan.—Saskatchewan department of agriculture.—

Growth was retarded in June by cool weather and lack of moisture and crops are generally behind the average. Although moisture conditions were improved toward the end of the month by rain, warm weather with plenty of rain, especially in the southern districts will be needed in July. In the Swift Current district wheat is weak later than the average. Moisture supply varies widely. Will need good rains during next three weeks to make even fair crop. Alberta.—Alberta department of agriculture.—

Crop prospects continue satisfactory over southern and northern sections of Alberta. Yield greatly reduced over central area but condition of coarse grains and feed improved by rains during past week. Fall wheat very satisfactory in south. Good crop alfalfa ready for first cutting. Livestock condition good. Dairy production increasing with improved pastures.

Sugar-beet crop generally good. British Columbia.—British Columbia department of agriculture.—

Weather during June has been cool with frequent showers which have generally benefited all crops. Grain crops making rapid growth and appear to be healthy and strong. Expects a general but due to the cold backward spring the prospects are that the crop will be light. Root crops and vegetables are in splendid condition and making good growth. Possibly the largest strawberry crop in the history of the province will be harvested, but prices are lower than last year. Raspberries and loganberries will yield approximately the same as last year. The yield of apples and other tree fruits will be about 25 per cent. less than last year.

Discovers Liquor Cache

Aeroplane Flies Up 20 Barrels Of Rum With Tail Skid

Sydney, N.S.—Flying up 20 barrels of rum with the tail skid of his plane was the unique experience of Major-General J. H. MacBrien, when engine trouble drove him into a forced landing on a farm near here. The cache was neatly hidden under sticks covered with sod, and had the Moth dropped a wheel into the pit instead of neatly straddling it, the results might have been serious for the pilot and his guest, Dr. Freeman O'Neill.

Four hundred thousand babies have been born at St. Paul during the past fortnight. It is not the fine mountain air that accounts for this phenomenon, but the mountain water, and the babies are rainbow trout from the Dominion Government Fish hatchery on the banks of the Bow River. They will be placed in the lakes and streams of the Rocky Mountain Parks.

Canadian Pacific Railway Police, Ontario No. 1 team, are champion revolver shots of the Dominion. After winning the Chief Constables Association Trophy in May, the team shot against the Lethbridge detachment of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police which had won the championship for Military forces, and defeated them 1412 avar at 1870. Possible score was 1569. The victorious team is composed of Investigator E. O'Brien, Sault Ste. Marie; Constable H. H. Gyles, Fort McNeill; J. H. L. MacDonald, Toronto; D. Prendergast, Sudbury, and W. E. Tingman, White River, Ont.

With a population that men's feet amount the countries of the world, Canada is fifth in total exports and third in total turnover of trade.

Charles Olsen and Raffaele Maniulari, rival round-the-world racers, are trying to make a trip circling the globe in less than 30 days using only "regular means of transportation." Olsen left Victoria on Canadian Pacific greyhound Express of Asia June 13, and Maniulari arrived at Vancouver on the Empress of France June 22. Airplanes come within the terms of the contract since both men have already used them. The race at time of writing is very close.

A problem that has defeated the learned for centuries—the squaring of the circle—has apparently been solved by L. W. Hartman, Canadian Pacific Railway timekeeper at London, Ont. Hartman claims he devised a geometric method by which to reproduce the exact area of a circle in the shape of a square. University professors are now examining his solution. He was born in Rumania and never saw a college, but speaks English, French, German and Rumanian fluently.

Adelard Goulet, head barber of the Banff Springs Hotel, had what he regards as a close shave the other day when he was off duty on the golf links and met a black bear. He topped his drive and the bear beat a hasty retreat. Wild animals are very tame in this district this year.

Of the 2,750,000 acres taken up by settlers in Canada in 1928 eighty per cent. was in such northerly districts as Prince Rupert, Saskatchewan, and the Peace River district, Alberta. The migration northward was most pronounced in the Peace River region, where 4,000 homesteads were taken up last year. In this district, there are still available 40,000,000 acres of fertile land, capable of adding millions of dollars to the annual value of the Dominion's crops.

SYNOPSIS

After a night of revelry at a New York uptown nightclub, the famous revue producer, takes a party of four to Blackie Joe's downtown club, which stays open until sunrise. They are seated at a "ringside table" by Al Stone, Blackie's chief comedian and singing waiter, who takes their order for beer. Al is unaware of Marcus's identity. Grace, the cigarette girl, is devoted to Al and really in love with him, but he does not see that. Al fills the order for beer and on his return from the bar sees Molly, the ballad singer in her dressing room. He moves toward her as if drawn by a magnet. He is in love with her, but Molly is indifferent to him.

CHAPTER III.

Al entered Molly's dressing room, depositing his tray of beers on a nearby stand. He forgot the drinks, forgot the party of fashionably dressed men and women who were impatiently waiting for them in the big room outside, forgot everything except the girl he adored—Molly.

Castoria is a comfort when Baby is fretful. No sooner taken than the little one is at ease. If restless, a few drops soon bring contentment. No harm done, for Castoria is a baby remedy, meant for babies. Perfectly safe to give the youngest infant; you have the doctors' word for that. It is a vegetable product and you could use it every day. But it's in an emergency that Castoria is a baby remedy. Some little when constipation must be relieved—or colic pains—or other suffering. Never be without it; some mothers keep an extra bottle, unopened, to make sure there will always be Castoria in the house. It is effective for older children, too; read the book that comes with it.

He stood quietly by her side for a moment, saying nothing. And Molly, the ballad singer, continued deftly the business of making up, as she sat before her dressing table. She wished to goodness that this singing waiter, who was always composing silly songs, would transfer his affections to someone else. But, finally, she couldn't escape the penetrating insistence of his eyes as he gazed over her shoulder at her decidedly attractive reflection in the mirror. She turned her head with a sigh of resignation, and said ambiguously:

"Ain't love grand!"

Al did not know quite what she meant by that. If she were spoofing him, well, she could—he didn't mind. Whatever she said he couldn't prevent his loving her. But now her remark unlocked the flood gates of his speech.

"I can't help it, Molly, if I'm crazy about you," he whispered ardently, coming still closer. "I've been that way ever since the first time I saw you. I think you're the most beautiful girl in the world—on the level, I do!"

Al longed to reach out and stroke her glossy golden hair; he wanted to catch her beautiful little white hands and pull her close to him. But he realized he couldn't do that now; her attitude said so plainly, "Stand off!"

As for Molly, she was mildly pleased and flattered at the impression she had made. No woman dislikes being called the most beautiful girl in the world, even if she doesn't love the man who says it. But, after all, he was just a singing waiter, a chap with no prospects. She said to him crisply:

"Be yourself, waiter."

The remark should have been like a slap in the face to Al, but it wasn't. If he had stopped to think he would have known she addressed him as "waiter" simply to humiliate him.

"You know, Molly," he began earnestly, "I'm not going to be a waiter all my life. Some day I'm going to sell some of the songs I've written. Don't you see, Molly, that if I just have you by my side I can't miss. I can write ballads that will put you over big—make you the talk of Broadway!"

Molly's boredom was apparent.

"Oh, run along, Al. I've heard all that talk before."

But Al scarcely heard her words. He was reaching in his coat pocket for some of the songs he had written. He drew them out, sorted them in nervous haste, and produced the one most precious to him—"Always."

This was the heart-throb song he had written just the night before, thinking of Molly every moment during the creation of it. As he had penned the words and arranged the music he had visualized Molly singing it in her lovely, sensuous contralto voice. It was her song; she had inspired it completely.

Molly had returned to her make-up boxes; she did not even glance up as Al extended the song for her inspection.

"Molly!" he pleaded desperately. "Can't you see that, although I can't talk the way I feel, I can write my feelings into music. I've written this song just for you. I want you to do something for me—sing it to-night."

Al's beseeching tone would have brought a sympathetic response from almost any woman, but not Molly. She was humming softly to herself as if to drown out his words. Meanwhile, the beers stood on the nearby table, the white, feathery foam gone from their tops. Meanwhile, Marcus the great producer, was in the outside room raging at the delay.

He rapped peremptorily on the table and finally summoned Blackie Joe himself to make a complaint. Blackie listened, nodded rapidly, and headed for the bar in search of Al. But at the doorway he glanced down the corridor and saw his singing waiter in earnest confab with Molly. Blackie took the situation in at a glance, but decided not to bawl out Al. After all, when a man's in love, you must expect him to be barmy, reasoned Blackie. He stepped to the doorway and said, not unkindly:

"Come on, Al—on the job."

Al turned to his tray of beers but, before picking it up, thrust his precious song on Molly's dressing table before her.

"Read the words, please," he begged and, catching up his tray vanished.

Blackie Joe stood nonchalantly in the doorway, one hand thrust into his trousers' pocket, staring after Al's retreating back. Then the proprietor turned to Molly.

"Molly, do you stuff tonight. Marcus is out in front."

Molly straightened as if touched by an electric shock. All trace of boredom vanished.

"Shut my mouth, Blackie! You don't mean it—not Marcus who puts on the roof revues?"

"No one else but," said Blackie, nodding delightedly.

"The glow in Molly's eyes was replaced by a cool, calculating stare. Marcus was outside—what an opportunity! Marcus, whose approval meant fame!"

"Blackie," she begged, "introduce me?"

Blackie nodded—"Okay, I'll do that"—and returned to his floor show. Two boy footmen were strutting their stuff near the Marcus table, while Al was serving the beleaguered beers.

As Blackie came closer, he heard Marcus's protesting voice:

"There's a fly in my beer!"

Al leaned over, quick as a flash, and answered:

"Sh-h! Not so loud—they'll all be wanting them."

Marcus turned away in annoyance. Al shouldn't wisecrack that way with such a man, thought Blackie. It was all right with the regular patrons, but not with anyone like Marcus. But before Blackie could smooth things out, Al had picked up the glass and hurried off to bring a new beer.

At the bar doorway he again confronted Molly—in her most gorgeous costume, garbed for conquest.

"Molly, did you like it?"

"Like what?"

"My song. Will you sing it?"

Molly's eyes flashed in sudden anger. "For heaven's sake, Al, let me alone! I've important business on tonight. I didn't read it and I won't sing it! That's flat!"

As Al recoiled before her lashing words his gaze dropped. His song lay on the floor—under Molly's slim, high curving heel!

Many loved Truth, and lavished life's best oil. Amid the dust of books to find her. Content at last, for guardian of their toil.

At life's dear peril wrought for her. So loved her that they died for her.

Sporting Notes.

Local lovers of a fist bout were given a treat Saturday night, on Main street, when an oldtimer named Jac tried to make an impression on Pete, a newcomer, over a faceted grievance. "Impression" is right, judging from Pete's face after the struggle, as the claret had, apparently, been flowing freely, with a few good confusions thrown in (or on) for good measure. Jac, whilst making the impression, acquired a few facial souvenirs, requiring the application of fun embrocation, administered by his "second."
